

Upcoming conference

20-21 September 2013

Conference:

“Judgments of the European Court of Human Rights – Effects and Implementation”

Hosted by the Institute for International Law, Goettingen University

Organisers: Prof. Dr. Anja Seibert-Fohr (Georg-August University Goettingen)
Prof. Dr. Mark E. Villiger (European Court of Human Rights)

Venue: “Paulinerkirche”, Goettingen University (Papendiek 14, 37073 Göttingen).

Conference Description

The conference seeks to consider new ways of enhancing the interplay between the Court and domestic implementation. Among the topics addressed are: the binding effects of the Court's judgments, the scope and reach of the award of damages, the role of the national courts regarding the implementation of the ECtHR's judgments, the role of subsidiarity and the future role of the ECtHR in the implementation of its judgments.

In order to stimulate the dialogue among the relevant professions judges from the Strasbourg Court, from various Constitutional Courts and Supreme Courts as well as academics and practitioners will participate in the conference. Several judges of the European Court of Human Rights including President Dean Spielmann have committed to give presentations.

The conference program is attached to this message (PDF-file)
